VII. A Litany for Courage and the Seasons poem by Richard Beale

May the apple blossoms flow'r on my birth-day.
May my heart be calmed if it snows on the jon-quils__ May the hot days of summer__ be made tol-er-a-ble by a lit-tle rain. May the Fall not come too soon and if it does may the ma-ples splash e-nough col-or to seem warm, not cold.

May I be thankful on Thanksgiving even though I might not remember what for, and joyful at Christmas for the same reason. I am not sure that by myself I would pray for all these things.

But if I did not pray, even knowing what I pray to, I would love my reason.
